Special Despatch to THE SON. WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—What appears to be an explanation of President Wilson's secret cable to the Secretary of the Navy, used by that official as a club to force the House Naval Committee to report the Administration's naval approortation bill for a new three year buildas programme, including ten superdreadnoughts, has been obtained here.

The reason given for the despatch of the cable is that President Wilson is meeting with discouragement in having the question of limitation of national armaments taken up specifically by the made thus far, it is said, is that the resident has secured assurances from he delegates on the League of Nations ommittee that provision in the constituon of the league will be made for a The questions of complete disrmament abolition of conscription and apertance to win British support for his act for huge naval expenditures. British support for "limitation of British support for "limitation of aval armaments" is already won, but interpretation which the British delegates place on this is guite different to the President's interpretation. The British are willing to keep their fleet educed to the minimum regulred for their national safety, but this minimum means in effect that Great Britian will as their natural frontiers. WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 .- A project for the construction of an experimental rigid dirigible balloon of the type famillarly known as the Zeppelin was included in the plans of the Navy Department when the pending naval appropriation bill was submitted to Congress. it would have cost several million do lars, and a part of the scheme would have been the bringing to the United States of one of the most modern Ger man air cruisers as a model.
